SCOPE AND CONTENT

The major responsibilities of the Tennessee Department of Highways and Public Works include planning, building, and maintaining Tennessee highways; overseeing more than 300 public transportation agencies; inspecting over 17,400 bridges and 87 airports; distributing maps; licensing interstate commuters; controlling outdoor advertising; and constructing rest areas.

Other duties include assisting in the planning and construction of airports, planning facilities for use on the navigable waterways of Tennessee, developing rail transportation, administering oversized loads on Tennessee highways, and overseeing the Tennessee Aeronautics Commission.

Record Group 84 deals with the Department of Highways and Public Works in its various forms from 1913-1972.

Records in this collection include correspondence, lawsuits, audits, accident reports, state and federal legislation, petitions and resolutions, blueprints, sketches, plans, maps, charts, tables, pamphlets, magazines, brochures, photographs, drawings, tape recordings, and books.

Also included are county and district files, special projects, bridge and road construction plans, railroad information, records of professional organizations, personnel records, consulting engineer files and reports, engineering fieldbooks, traffic studies, special reports, highway lettings, bids, road surface reports, maintenance and equipment files, conference and convention information, speeches, and annual reports.

Of special interest are such items as the Overton Park controversy in Memphis, Capitol Hill redevelopment, highway and aviation maps from the period 1913-1930, and photographs of European and American landing fields from the period of 1925-1932, as well as correspondence from the German Weimar Republic from the same period regarding Tennessee's Aviation laws.

Other items of interest include highway construction information from other states, interstate highway plans, the Arkansas-Tennessee Bridge at Memphis, the Victory Memorial Bridge at Nashville, and the Chattanooga-Signal Mountain highway tunnel.

Environmental and economic impact studies, court cases, and contracts are included, as well as studies, tax data, dam and bridge projects, materials concerning flood control, military access roads, insurance and retirement, utilities, Appalachian highway projects, and Federal Bureaus. Newspaper Clippings, press releases, street and road construction plans, minutes, awards, policies, regulations, surveys, reports, and budgets complete the collection.

Please note that only the oversized materials in Map Drawer 20 (following Box 176 in the finding Aid) through Map Drawer 33 (Up to Box 177 in the Finding Aid) have been microfilmed. Additionally, the audio tape titled, "The Road Ahead," originally found in Box 216, has been transferred to the TSLA Vault and can be found at II-C-3v.

For further information see Record Group 5, Internal Improvements, and Record Group 39, Mississippi River Bridge at Memphis Records, 1939-1951.
